He did not consider this piece worth more than that sum.

I trust this will give you the desired information.

Dear Dr. Yoanna:

Yesterday I had a talk with a dealer, Mr. Mallad, who told me that you had offered to trade a Syracusan decadrachm and that you desired to dispose of your Greek coins. If this is correct, and if you have placed prices on them at which you would be willing to dispose of them, I am wondering whether we can not be of help to you. A number of our members are collecting Greek coins actively and it is very possible that a fair proportion of what you may have might be desirable to them if they could see them. If you would care to consider this suggestion and can have the coins with their prices marked sent to me, it might be possible to effect a sale of some of them certainly. The advantages of eliminating the commissions which would otherwise go to dealers will be obvious to you, but you will also realize, of course, that this proposition must remain confidential and that you must not disclose our action in the event that you act upon my suggestion.

With cordial regards, I remain

Dear Dr. de Yoanna:

Your letter of October 24th is at hand. Naturally, I am averse to doing anything which will interfere with the business transactions of Mr. [illegible], who is a Fellow of the Society and a very good friend of it. However, if, as from your letter I understand, you have declined his offer for the transformer, I should be glad to see it. I am not sure that I can find a buyer for it, but we have lately had several of our members interested and it is not unreasonable to think that with a favorable price it might appeal to several. I should therefore like to accept your suggestion that you bring the piece here. By that time I shall be able to report more fully on the coils I brought with me and I should also have received an answer to two letters which I have written. I expect to be present on Friday of this week(tomorrow), but I should be glad to see you at any other time.

Very truly yours,

Secretary

Dr. A. de Yoanna,
Brooklyn, N.Y.

Dear Dr. de Yoanna:

Your letter of May 8th is at hand, and I am very sorry that your misunderstanding of our letter prevented your attending the dinner. No special tickets were mailed; this form of paying for the dinner was simply to avoid complications on the evening it was held. You will find a statement regarding announcements in the June issue of the Numismatist. They were briefly:

1. An announcement of the gift of Mr. Guttag's Latin-American coins;

2. The presentation of the collection of the work of Paul Manship;

3. Establishment of a fund for the purchase of foreign medals.

I regret exceedingly that you were not present, as those who did attend had a very interesting evening.

Very truly yours,

Secretary

Dear Dr. de Yoanna:

Mr. Noe told me the other day that there was a misunderstanding on your part about the Society's dinner. Every one showed up but yourself and we were looking for you, as we had places reserved. Do you wish your remittance returned? As it stands now, the dinner account balances. We were very sorry that you thought that tickets would be sent.

very truly yours,

Curator
